Week by Week Checklist

Coordinators' Guide

Getting Started

Plan your timeline

Use the Timeline Worksheet on page 2 to set your schedule and know when to distribute Sponsor Sheets. Announce the timeline now to teachers, parents, and volunteers.

Inform the faculty

Complete the school-specific sections of the Memo to Teachers and distribute the letter to ensure that faculty understand the Run for the Arts.

Recruit volunteers

See the Volunteer Guide for details; mail or email the Memo to Volunteers to confirm.

Recruit student Team Leaders and distribute goal sheet

See Student Team Leader Goal Sheet in this packet for more details.

Send letters to potential community supporters

Available on our website (ya-or.org/run-for-the-arts/materials) is a “fill in the blank” template for requesting donations from local businesses. Connect with your school’s principal about what can be offered to businesses who donate. Thank them in a school newsletter? A sign with their logo visible on Run day?

Arrange for students with disabilities

In some schools, students with disabilities participate with assistance from classmates, or by choosing alternate activities such as swimming laps.

Promote your Run

You can impact the success of your Run by letting your community know it is happening. Here are a few ideas: (See Building Community Support on page 12 for more!)

- Ten posters are enclosed for you to display at your school and in your neighborhood. More posters are available by request.
- Work with Team Leaders to feature the Run in a school display case.
- Plan a kick-off assembly featuring a guest performer or student talent.

Pledge Period Begins (My dates: _____)

Allow around two weeks for students to collect pledges

Distribute Sponsor Sheets, Letter to Parents, and Memo to Runners

Complete the school-specific sections on the Letter to Parents and Memo to Runners (both at the back of this packet). Distribute the letters and Sponsor Sheets to homeroom classes. (Translations of the Letter to Parents in several languages can be downloaded from Young Audiences' website at: ya-or.org/run-for-the-arts/materials).

Encourage students to sign up for ONLINE DONATIONS at runforthearts.ya-or.org

This should be included on your school's website or Facebook page, and in newsletters or other parent communication. Online donations are automatically deposited; you will not have to process them.

Have students complete the Registration Form (on the Sponsor Sheet)

This information is very important and must be complete and legible. Review procedures with students and emphasize the following:

1. Sponsor Sheets

- a. All students must have a signature from a parent or guardian to participate in Run for the Arts.
- b. The minimum per lap pledge is $0.25 and the suggested minimum flat donation is $1.00.
- c. Students cannot sponsor each other.

2. Prizes / Scoring: We recommend the point-based system detailed below for awarding prizes, but if you have a different idea, we always encourage schools to do whatever is best for their communities!

- a. Prizes are awarded based on points earned, rather than the amount of funds raised. This allows students to earn prizes according to participation efforts, regardless of their neighborhood economy.
- b. All participating students will receive a Run for the Arts color changing pencil.
- c. Students earning 30 or more points will receive a Run for the Arts t-shirt.
- d. A school-wide 1st and 2nd Grand Prize will be awarded to the students with the most points.

Ideas from Successful Run Coordinators

Some schools have opted to award T-shirts differently based on requests from parents. If you find that having parents purchase T-shirts instead of having students earn them based on points works best for your school, please do that. The thing to keep in mind is consistency. It is important to choose one method OR the other. There will be issues if some students are earning points while other students are able to buy the prizes.

One Week Before Your Run (My dates: _____)

Set the Course

Designate and measure the lap course.

A lap should be approximately

1/4 mile in length (1,320 feet = 1/4 mile)

Schedule Course Times

Students have a maximum of 30 minutes for their run. Larger schools may wish to divide classes or grades into heats (e.g., 10:00 – 10:30, 10:45 – 11:15). Students with special needs may require alternate lap structures or time limits.

Organize Lap Counters

Determine how you will count runners' laps.

Ideas from Successful Run Coordinators

While the course must be ¼ mile, it does not need to be a circle! Don't have a track? Measure the distance around the block, through the park, or in the gym. One school even did their Run through the school hallways when it rained.

Ideas from Successful Run Coordinators

- Runners carry or wear a personalized card to be hole-punched or tallied each time they complete a lap. At the end of the Run, the marks are counted to determine how many laps each student completed.
- Color code the cards and lap counting stations (Ms. Jones' class is blue and stops only at the blue volunteers). Avoid bottlenecks during lap counting by having stations set at intervals around the course.

Do you have a great way of counting laps? Please let us know!

- Do you have volunteers in place?
- Have you distributed your Run for the Arts posters?
- Have you met with your school's student Team Leaders?

Two Days Before Your Run

- Remind students that all Sponsor Sheets must be turned in the day before the Run.

The Day Before Your Run = End of the Pledge Period

Collect Sponsor Sheets

Have teachers process students' Sponsor Sheets:

Double-check the Registration Form on the bottom of each Sponsor Sheet. Make sure all students have the following information:

- a. Participant's name, school, and grade
- b. Parent or guardian signature

Did the student remember to fill in a t-shirt size? If this section is incomplete, make a guess or remind students to fill it in when sheets are returned following the Run.

Have teachers prepare Scoring Worksheets

If you are using our point-based prize system, the Scoring Worksheet is a useful tool for prize distribution. You will use it to record runners' completed laps, number of paid sponsors, and their point totals. This can either be done while you have the sponsor sheets collected now, or can be done at the end of the "collection of funds" phase.

To prepare the scoring worksheet, list the names of all participating students. As most schools have students run in groups by class, it is best to use 1–2 worksheets per class. If students are grouped in other ways, make arrangements accordingly.

If you need additional copies, this form can be downloaded as an Excel file from Young Audiences' website: www.ya-or.org/run-for-the-arts/materials

Ideas from Successful Run Coordinators

- Processing the Scoring Worksheet can either happen while you have the Sponsor Sheets collected during the Run event, or at the end of the "collection of funds" phase when you again have the Sponsor sheets collected. Please choose what makes the most sense for your school
- Some schools will set up "scoring stations" at their Run event. A line of volunteers will prepare the scoring worksheets while the students are running. When the students finish, their tally sheets (number of laps) are turned in to the table and the volunteers automatically update the scoring sheets with the number of laps ran.
- Some schools have each individual teacher record their students' information at the end of the collection of funds.
- Regardless of when you choose to record them, this is a great job for volunteers.

Day of The Run (My date: _____)

Check in Student Runners

Check students in and make sure they understand how laps will be counted.

Complete the Run

If you take photos during your run event, please consider sharing them with Young Audiences by using #RunForTheArts in your social media posts, or emailing us at youngaudiences@ya-or.org.

Collect Lap Counts

Have teachers gather lap count cards and match them to student Sponsor Sheets. Consider stapling them, or recording laps on sheets right away.

Tally and record Lap Counts (great opportunity for volunteers!)

When all lap cards are collected, record the number of completed laps on the Sponsor Sheet and the Scoring Worksheet. Taking the time to complete this step now will expedite processing later.

Return Sponsor Sheets to Runners

Students will use their Sponsor Sheets when collecting pledges. Some coordinators choose to distribute the Memo to Runners again to remind them of deadlines.

Ideas from Successful Run Coordinators

- Music: Set up speaker systems outside during their runs. You can also use music as a way to warm up.
- Costumes: One school does their Run event the day before Halloween and encourages students to wear costumes for the event.
- Water station: Consider setting up a table for water bottles off to the side. You can even have a team leader help run this table and keep it organized.
- Signs: Have a sign making station for parents who come to cheer on runners.
- Snacks: Could your school provide a treat for after the run? Oranges, popcorn, popsicles.
- Include students in the decision: Have a way to vote on which art experience comes to your school; the most popular choice will be booked with the funds.

Collection Period (My dates: _____)

Track Funds Received

- Checks should be made payable to Young Audiences or Run for the Arts. These checks cannot legally be deposited into your school account. Any checks written to your school must be endorsed over to Young Audiences.
- Bank all cash in your school account. Write a single school check to Young Audiences for the total amount of cash received.

Announce the End of the Collection Period

All funds turned in after the deadline are added to the school's total Run account, but may not be considered when determining prize eligibility.

Coordinator's Wrap-Up

Look over your online donation report.

We will send each school a report of all online donations at the end of April. All online donations are deposited directly into your school's account; you do not need to process them.

Complete Scoring Worksheets and Return Materials to Young Audiences.

1. If you are using our point-based system, transfer runner information from the Sponsor Sheet to the Scoring Worksheet (name, # sponsors including online sponsors, # laps, T-shirt size, $ received) if you have not done so already.
2. Calculate each runner's score on the Scoring Worksheet using the point formula:

$\begin{aligned} \# \text{ of paid sponsors (including online)} \quad \underline{\hspace{1cm}} \times 2 = \quad \underline{\hspace{1cm}} \\ + \quad \underline{\hspace{1cm}} \text{ laps completed} \\ = \quad \underline{\hspace{1cm}} \text{ points scored} \end{aligned}$

4. Uncle Ray	8. Mom
$\text{Paid sponsors } \underline{8} \times 2 = \underline{16} + \underline{11} \text{ laps completed} = \underline{27} \text{ points scored}$

3. Prize Order Form

- a. Complete the Prize Order Form (you will receive this via email about a week after your Run).
- b. Participation Awards: All participants (who get at least one paying sponsor and run at least one lap) will receive color changing pencils.
- c. Prize t-shirts: If you are using our point-based system, all students who earn 30 or more points receive a Run for the Arts prize t-shirt. Use your Scoring Worksheets to total the number of officially earned prize t-shirts (by size) for your school.
- d. Grand Prizes: By comparing the scores of all participants, identify the highest score (1st grand prize) and second highest score (2nd grand prize). If you have ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded. These students will receive gold and silver medals, tickets to a local exhibit or show, and a drawstring backpack with art supplies.
- e. Student Team Leader Medals: If your school has Student Team Leaders, complete the number and type of medals they have earned. The score for Leadership medals is based on the number of completed goals from the Team Leader Goal Sheet. (Eight or more completed goals = gold; four or more completed goals = silver)
- f. Additional T-shirts. If your school wishes to purchase any additional t-shirts ($9 each), include these with the earned prize t-shirts for a grand total on the Prize Order Form. Please double-check your numbers prior to filling in the form.

4. Contact students who have not turned in pledged funds.

Remember:

- All checks must be made payable to Young Audiences or Run for the Arts and cannot be legally deposited into your school account.
- Any checks written to the school must be endorsed to Young Audiences.
- DO NOT TURN IN CASH TO YOUNG AUDIENCES.
Bank all cash in your school account and write a single school check to Young Audiences for the total amount of cash received.

Return of Materials and Funds

Package checks to be returned

Bundle all checks for pledges/contributions (including school checks) together and note the total on your Run Funds envelope. Make a separate bundle of any checks written to cover costs of additional t-shirts being ordered, and separately note this total on the envelope as well.

Sponsor Sheets

We recommend holding onto Sponsor Sheets for a minimum of 3 months in case students or parents have questions regarding prizes or points earned.

Bring or mail all materials to:

Young Audiences
1220 SW Morrison Street
Suite 1000
Portland, OR 97205

We are open weekdays between 9 am and 5 pm. We are on the 10th floor at the address listed above. The elevator doors open directly into the office. If you stop in, please say hello! We love to meet our coordinators.

When Prizes Are Delivered

- Please count all items. Compare this count with what you ordered BEFORE you begin handing out any prizes.
- Determine who gets what by referring to your copy of the Run for the Arts Prize Order Form and your Scoring Worksheets.
- If we have incorrectly delivered, we will attempt to correct the problem as soon as possible. Allow 3–7 business days for re-delivery. Call us at (503) 225-5900 ext. 235.
- If you have ordered incorrectly, we will do the best we can to supplement your order, but cannot guarantee that replacement prizes will be available. Call us at (503) 225-5900 ext. 235 with questions.

Congratulations, you've done it!

Ideas from Successful Run Coordinators

Consider planning a Run for the Arts award assembly to celebrate your school's success.

Call 503-225-5900 x231 to schedule a performance for your assembly.

Run for the Arts is a trademarked project. It is the property of Young Audiences of Oregon and it can be administered only by and with the permission of the organization.

Online Donations

How does it work?

- Our online donation platform can be found at runforthearts.ya-or.org
- Schools should share a link to this web address with families through email newsletters, on social media or however they contact parents. We have included it in the parent letter and on the sponsor sheets.
- Families register their runner on runforthearts.ya-or.org. There are default pages or they can customize their page.
- Instead of going door to door, families can collect sponsors by sharing a personalized fundraising link that will lead friends and family directly to their child's page. (Easier for parents/caregivers!) Donors can also donate generically to the school of their choice, or to our Community Matching Fund, which supports lower income Run schools.
- All funds donated online are deposited directly into your account without you having to process them. (Easier for schools!) You can access these records at any time by logging in to the runforthearts.ya-or.org site. Your password will be emailed to you.
- In order for online sponsors to be counted towards a runner's total, they need to write the number of online sponsors and total raised on their Sponsor Sheet.
- Young Audiences will provide your school with a report of all online donor activity after donations have come in.

What are the school's responsibilities?

- Please share the online donation platform website with families in any way that you normally communicate with them. Providing a direct link is helpful. The more families who opt to collect donations online, the fewer donations you will have to process in-house.
- Please provide us feedback. We want this system to make your lives easier!

Is donor information safe?

- All credit card transactions are securely processed through PaymentSpring. For more information about this service visit paymentspring.com.

Tips for Building Community Support

Your participation in Young Audiences Run for the Arts is a great way to build visibility and community support for your school's arts programs. Local businesses, churches, community organizations, and neighborhood groups can rally enthusiasm and dollars for your school.

Solicit Business Support

- Download a Sponsorship Letter Template on our website for an easy way to request support from local businesses. Ask a business to support the Run with a one time gift or by matching funds raised.
- Classroom Sponsorship: Enlist corporate volunteers as sponsors of an entire classroom.

Run Day Snacks

- Many local grocers or restaurants will donate treats and volunteers to hand them out. Consider asking for fruit, cookies, or juices.

Recruit Adult Runners

- Ask parents, staff, or local businesses for volunteers to take Sponsor Sheets, collect pledges, and run with students for their Run for the Arts.

Spread The Word!

- Neighborhood Newsletters: Send a press release (or an email) to your neighborhood association or newspaper. Let the community know what students are doing for their school!
- Social Media: If your school has a Facebook page, create a Facebook event to generate interest in your Run for the Arts. Share photos, stories from local businesses, and what arts programs students hope to undertake with the funds they raise. To broaden your reach, connect with Young Audiences: www.facebook.com/YoungAudiencesOregon
- Distribute Posters: Hang the enclosed posters at your school and in neighborhood businesses, bulletin boards, churches, and community centers.
- School Newsletter: Include a paragraph about the Run for the Arts in your school newsletter. Consider interviewing a past participant about their experience. This is also a great place to recruit volunteers!

Run for the Arts Benefits

Since 1977, Young Audiences Run for the Arts has helped schools raise over $18 million for arts programs, supplies, and field trips.

By working with many schools across the region, Young Audiences is able to bring everyone the best prices on materials needed to make Run for the Arts a success. From t-shirts to Sponsor Sheets, instructions to accounting, we are here to help.

Young Audiences charges a 7% fee to coordinate Run for the Arts. What does it cover?

Online Platform for donations:

- It would be cost prohibitive for a single school to take on the design and maintenance of an online donation platform and online credit card processing. Young Audiences takes on these costs as a service to the program. We have found that schools are raising 20% more with the online platform than without.

Discount on great programs:

- Young Audiences wants to celebrate and grow our partnership with schools who engage in arts fundraising. We provide a 5% discount on roster artist programs as listed in the Artists & Programs Guide for all schools with a current school year Run for the Arts event. You can browse all our artist programs online at guide.ya-or.org/programs.

Materials Design:

- Young Audiences holds a t-shirt design contest to solicit artwork from students across the region and displays all entries online and in a public venue.
- Young Audiences hires a professional graphic designer to transform the student artwork into new posters, Sponsor Sheets, and t-shirts.

Printing & Translation:

- Young Audiences prints Sponsor Sheets, and has them translated from English to Spanish and Russian. (Parent letters also available in Vietnamese, Chinese and Laotian on our website.)
- Young Audiences creates Run for the Arts posters and banners and provides them to schools free of charge.
- Young Audiences prints coordinator packets, which include detailed instructions on managing a Run for the Arts event, templates for communication to parents, scoring sheets, etc.

Financial Accountability & Support

- Young Audiences processes all Run for the Arts money. We verify all funds brought in by the school and cover any bank charges from returned checks that do not clear.
- Young Audiences guarantees that Run for the Arts funds are only used for arts education and arts-related expenses.
- Young Audiences does in-house accounting for your Run funds, ensuring accurate balance information.

Network of Coordinators:

- You are not alone! There are many other coordinators around the city juggling all the components of putting on this big school event. How can we help? What questions do you have? Let us help put you in contact with people doing the same thing you are.

Prizes

- Young Audiences secures and mails prizes directly to your school, including the Grand Prize packages, Participation Awards, and Coordinator T-shirts.

Incidentals

- Young Audiences covers all shipping costs for materials to hold a Run for the Arts event.
- We cover shipping costs for prizes and postage for additional requested materials.

Tradition:

- With its long history, Young Audiences is a well-known and trusted organization. Run for the Arts is a tradition for many students and families. Taking part in these events brings back wonderful memories for many who grew up in this area.

For every dollar a school raises, Young Audiences takes only seven cents — that's 93 cents per dollar that your school keeps. If your school raises $3,000, Young Audiences retains $210, leaving your school with $2,790 for arts program and supplies. The $210 fee covers everything listed above (and more!).

Student Team Leaders

Run for the Arts schools are invited to select student volunteers to serve as Student Team Leaders.

Who are they?

Student Team Leaders are student volunteers who rally support and enthusiasm within their school and help the Run for the Arts coordinator as student liaisons.

Benefits of being a Team Leader

- Special recognition within the school.
- A specially printed Student Team Leader Run for the Arts T-shirt. (Young Audiences can provide up to 4 Team Leader T-shirts. If additional t-shirts are needed, contact koko@ya-or.org directly.)
- The chance to earn Run for the Arts gold and silver medals of distinction.

Instructions to Coordinators

- Work with teachers to select up to four Team Leaders. Look for qualities like motivation, spirit, dependability and enthusiasm. These students will be a big source of support for you as you get into the Run.
- Hand out the Team Leader Goals sheets (included in this packet and available for download at ya-or.org/run-for-the-arts/materials) and let them get to work!

Volunteer Guide

Before the Run

- Coordinate Run day events including finding volunteers, arranging snacks, and organizing a cheering squad.
- Help arrange a kick-off assembly.
- Send out “Community Sponsorship” letters to request monetary donations from businesses close to your school. See the easy fill in the blank template letter on our website or in this packet. Not sure how to coordinate this? Send your volunteers to us and Young Audiences can help get them started.
- Distribute Sponsor Sheets to students.
- Copy and distribute pre-printed letters and memos (Letter to Parents, Memo to Runners, Memo to Teachers, Memo to Volunteers).
- Collect Sponsor Sheets (the day before the Run) and make sure they are completed.
- Talk with teachers about the benefits you see from doing the Run for the Arts. Let them know which artists and art forms your children are interested in.

Run Day

- Help with setup or cleanup of the Run course.
- Count and record laps on the day of the Run.
- Explain to students about collecting pledges, hand out envelopes to collect funds, and make sure that due dates are clear.

After the Run

- Aid the coordinator in the Run for the Arts wrap-up, including counting funds and completing the online Prize Order Form.
- Tally prize counts and t-shirt order.
- Help distribute prizes at the school or a special assembly.

Rules & Prizes

Eligibility

Students, teachers, school staff, parents and other volunteers may participate in the Run for the Arts. However, only enrolled students are eligible for Grand Prizes.

Deadlines

Each school will inform its participants of all deadlines associated with their Run for the Arts. Runners must meet all deadlines in order to be eligible for awards and prizes.

Scoring

We recommend that each participant's score be determined by the Run for the Arts point formula. This formula ensures that the focus is on active participation and that students are not rewarded solely on the financial status of their neighborhood:

$\begin{aligned} \# \text{ of paid sponsors } \underline{\hspace{2cm}} \times 2 &= \underline{\hspace{2cm}} \\ &+ \underline{\hspace{2cm}} \# \text{ of laps completed} \\ &= \underline{\hspace{2cm}} \text{ total points} \end{aligned}$

Paid Sponsors

A person may sponsor a runner only once. Students cannot sponsor each other. In order to be counted toward the participant's score, each sponsor must:

- Be registered on the Sponsor Sheet during the Pledge Period
- Contribute a suggested minimum of $1.00, or pledge a suggested minimum of 25 cents per lap
- Have their payment collected by the participant (or participant's caregiver) before the end of the collection period deadline

Contributions received after the end of the pledge period deadline will be credited to the school's Run account, but will not be considered when determining prize eligibility.

The Run

Laps must be approximately one-quarter mile in length (1,320 feet = $\frac{1}{4}$ mile). The running time limit is 30 minutes maximum for all participants. Each school selects its own Run for the Arts site.

Prizes

First and Second Grand Prizes

1st and 2nd place Grand Prizes are awarded to the students with the highest and second highest Run point totals at their school. In the case of a tie, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

- 1st Place Gold Medal of Honor or 2nd Place Silver Medal of Honor
- Certificate of Highest Excellence
- Tickets for two to a local arts exhibit or performance
- Drawstring backpack
- Art supplies
- Pencil pouch

Run for the Arts T-shirt

Awarded for those with point totals of 30 or more scores. Note: the $9 cost per shirt will be subtracted from the school's total funds raised.

Participation Award

Students who have at least one paying sponsor and who have run at least one lap receive a Run for the Arts color changing mood pencil.
